The following rules apply to the calculation of the fee for the first acquisition of securities under above points A) and B) in respect of both one-time and regular investing:

1. The fee for the first acquisition of securities will be calculated as the relevant percentage of the investment amount agreed in the Portfolio Management Agreement (as concerns regular investing, the investment amount is the target amount); the percentage is defined for the investment range under which the investment amount falls according to the first column of the table specified in point A) or B) respectively, for the applicable selected investment strategy according to the second or the third/fourth column of the table specified in point A) or B) respectively for one-time or regular investing.
2. As concerns existing Clients who have at least one portfolio management agreement or an agency contract with PARTNERS INVESTMENTS, o.c.p., a.s., pursuant to which they have already paid relevant fees (hereinafter only the "Active Agreement"), the amount of - investments agreed under active agreements will be added to the investment amount agreed in every new portfolio management agreement upon entering into it to determine the relevant investment range in accordance with the first column of the table specified in point A) or B) respectively for both one-time and regular investing and subsequently, the fee for the first acquisition of securities will be calculated on the basis of the determined investment range as a percentage of the investment amount agreed in the new portfolio management agreement.

3. With regard to Clause 2, where an existing Client enters, during a short period of time, into two or more new portfolio management agreements which are not deemed active yet, the investment amounts agreed under already active agreements will be added to each new portfolio management agreement individually to determine the relevant investment range in accordance with the first column of the table specified in point A) or B) respectively for one-time and regular investing; the fee for the first acquisition of securities will be calculated on the basis of the determined investment range as the relevant percentage of the investment amount agreed in each new portfolio management agreement, i.e., in such a case, the investment amounts agreed in each new portfolio management agreement will not be summed up.
 4. Furthermore, with regard to Clause 2, where the contractually agreed investment amount (or the target amount in case of regular investing) is met and the existing Client transfers, without concluding an amendment to the relevant portfolio management agreement for an investment amount (or the target amount in case of regular investing) increase, another payment on the basis of the agreement, each such payment will be subject to the fee for the first acquisition of securities in the amount of 4%; such payments will not be taken into consideration in determining the relevant investment range according to the first column of the table specified in point A) or B) respectively for one-time and regular investing upon concluding a new portfolio management agreement or upon any change of the investment strategy.
 5. With regard to Clause 2, should an existing Client wish to change contractually, on the basis of a new suitability assessment, the investment strategy agreed in an active portfolio management agreement and switch to another investment strategy with a higher percentage set out to calculate the fee for the first acquisition of securities under the first column of the table specified in point A) or B) respectively for one-time and regular investing, either with or without increasing the investment amount or the target amount, the rules set out in above Clauses 2 through 4 will be applied to calculate the fee for the first acquisition of securities and the Client will settle only the difference between the fee for the first acquisition of securities calculated in accordance with these new rules for the

The fee for transfer of securities within the PARTNERS INVESTMENTS, o.c.p., a.s. company

€100/ISIN³⁾

³⁾ The fee will be calculated according to the number of ISINs of securities transferred, e.g. on the basis of a gift agreement, purchase contract, etc., from the client account of one Client to the client account of another Client, both maintained by PARTNERS INVESTMENTS, o.c.p., a.s.

These fees do not include third-party fees. They are specified in relevant third-party documents concerning those financial instruments (for instance, in the Fund Rules, KIID, and/or the prospectus for the financial instrument concerned). Acquisition of qualified investor fund securities is usually associated with a fixed management fee, exit fee and success fee.

In this respect, clients are informed that as concerns certain third parties, PARTNERS INVESTMENTS, o.c.p., a.s. may receive financial remuneration for distribution of securities up to 50% of the fixed management fee set out in the rules of the relevant qualified investor fund.

Clients will be informed about third-party fees and payment under the preceding sentence, in compliance with Section 73b (3) of Act 566/2001 on securities and investment services and on the amendment of certain laws (Securities Act), as amended, prior to providing an investment service.

PARTNERS INVESTMENTS, o.c.p., a.s. will charge Clients only for the fees listed here and no others.

Fee amounts may vary, depending on what has been agreed with the Client.

Service fees in the Fee Schedule are exclusive of statutory value added tax. Whenever legislation applies value added tax to be charged on all or part of fees, it will be added to them at the statutory rate.
